DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains a disclosure including claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Article Species: Applicant must select one of the articles set forth in the specification, such as catheter, shunt, lead, etc., as set forth in applicant's [0064].

Surface Portion Species: Applicant must select one of the group of metals, metal oxides, semiconductors, polymers, silicon, silicon oxide. If selecting metals, applicant must select one of gold, silver, copper, cadmium, zinc, palladium, platinum, mercury, lead, iron, chromium, manganese, tungsten. If selecting metal oxides, applicant must select one of silica, alumina, quartz, glass. If selecting polymers, applicant must also select one of the polymers set forth in [0037].

Linking Layer Bonding Species: Applicant must select one of covalent, non-covalent. If selecting non-covalent, then also select one of hydrophobic bonding, hydrogen bonding, Van der Waals interactions, ionic bonding, etc.

Linking Layer Species: Applicant must select one of a continuous or patterned linking layer.

Anchoring Group Species: Applicant must select one of the anchoring groups compatible with the selected surface portion species as set forth in the specification to provide an election that is enabled. For example, [0040] states that carboxylic acids are the appropriate anchoring groups for metal oxides such as silica.

Initiator Species: Applicant must select one of the initiators listed in [0041].

Art Unit: 1615

Spacers: Applicant must select one of the spacers listed in [0042].

Depositing of the Anchoring (linking) Layer: Applicant must select one of the techniques set forth in [0043].

Brush Polymer Formation: Applicant must select one of the protein-resistant head groups from [0046] and [0047]-[0059]. Applicant must select one of the core vinyl monomers from [0045].

Applicant must select one species from each of the sets of species above.

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 and 33 are generic.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed

Art Unit: 1615

(37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse of the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

A telephone call was made to Kenneth D. Sibley on September 7, 2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
